POLITICIAN HELD FOR SUSPECTED DRUG ABUSE

KUALA LUMPUR: A political party division chief, who holds the title of "datuk", was arrested yesterday for suspected drug abuse. The man, who is in his 50s, was at an entertainment centre in Jalan Imbi when a police team from the Dang Wangi district police headquarters conducted a raid in the wee hours of the morning following a tip-off. It is learnt that he was with a group of about 10 friends in a karaoke room during the raid. The datuk and his friends were arrested after they tested positive for drugs.
